MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - MAY 1, 1942.

Wheat mill feed prices have undergone further adjustments and tend to meet quotations which mills and jobbers will likely ask after May 11 when wholesale price ceilings go into effect. The price ceilings on feeds as announced April 29 by the Office of Price Administration are the highest prices received by sellers during March, 1942. These ceilings, however, do not apply to sales or deliveries of raw or unprocessed agricultural commodities which are sold in substantially their original state or to linseed cake and meal or mixed feeds for animals. The market on oil seed cakes and meal remains steady and about unchanged. Although present demand is not quite keeping pace with production, no undue selling pressure is reported upon the market. Packing house products remain unchanged at ceilings established sometime ago, namely, $74.00 for tankage and $75.00 per ton for meat scraps, fob packing plants.

HAY MARKET - KANSAS CITY. Offerings of alfalfa at Kansas City for the week were again limited to two cars, both of medium to poor quality and undisposed of at the close of the period. Demand was confirmed to an occasional inquiry for choice alfalfa as local interests appeared well supplied and dairymen and feeders are no longer in need of hay. Pastures and green feeds are abundant. Nominal quotations, basis of the U.S. Grades:- Alfalfa: No. 1 Extra Leafy $21.50-up; No. 2 Extra Leafy $19.50-21.00; No. 1, $17.50-19.00, No. 2 Leafy $16.00-17.00; No. 2, $14.00 to $16.00; No. 3 Leafy $13.00-14.00; No. 3, $12.00-13.00; Sample Grade $9.00-11.00 per ton. The prairie hay market at Kansas City was again dull throughout the week, with team track arrivals amounting to only 5 cars and direct arrivals amounting to eight. A fairly liberal volume of prairie hay of sufficiently good quality to meet Army requirements was stopped at Kansas City for inspection enroute to Army posts in the South and Southeast. Nominal quotations, basis of the U.S. Grades:- Prairie: No. 1, $12.00-13.00; No. 2, $10.50-11.50; No. 3, $9.00-10.50; Sample Grade $7.50-8.50 per ton.

CHEESE - CHICAGO. Yesterday's wholesale prices No. 1 Fresh American Cheese. No material change in the local market and with primary values holding unchanged, the market ruled steady in closing. Prices:- Twins 21 $\frac{1}{4}$ -21 $\frac{3}{4}$. Single Daisies 22-22 $\frac{1}{4}$. Longhorns 22-22 $\frac{1}{4}$.

SALES ON THE WISCONSIN CHEESE EXCHANGE - PLYMOUTH, WIS., FRIDAY, MAY 1ST., 1942. Sales to dealers were: Twins 20 $\frac{1}{4}$. Cheddars 20 $\frac{1}{4}$. Single Daisies 21 $\frac{1}{4}$. Longhorns 21 $\frac{1}{4}$.

MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - MAY 5TH.

Wheat mill feed prices have become more settled with asking prices for prompt shipment now being about the average of the ceiling levels, which are the highest prices received by sellers during March, 1942. Bran and Middlings for strictly immediate shipment bring 50¢ to $1.00 per ton over the prompt price. June shipment bran is quotable at $1.20 per ton under prompt while June shipments middlings are offered at $3.00 per ton under. Very little trade is taking place in the deferred deliveries as prices are expected to decline well under selling levels during summer and early fall months. The oil seed meal situation has steadied with mills holding their asking prices firm and jobbers less inclined to shade quotations in order to get directions.

WISCONSIN WEATHER AND CROP SUMMARY FOR THE WEEK ENDING TUESDAY, MAY 5TH., 1942.

Temperatures for the week averaged seven degrees to ten degrees above normal. Maximum temperatures were in the upper 80's on one or two days in the southern section, and the highest of record for so early in the season at some stations. However, a reaction to cooler weather occurred and minimum temperatures were near or slightly below freezing in the extreme north on two nights, and near freezing in portions of the southern section on one night. Reports on possible damage to fruit and tender vegetation have not been received. However, it appears probable that such damage was not serious. Rainfall was frequent and varied from adequate to moderately heavy. Many central and northern stations reported from 1.50 inches to 2.50 inches of rain during the week. Farm work was greatly retarded in northern sections, but made fairly good progress in the south. The unseasonably warm weather and frequent rains caused vegetation to advance rapidly. Early spring seedings of wheat, oats and barley are up to good stands and growing rapidly. Germination of later seedings is now assured. Winter grains, meadows and pastures are advanced. Alfalfa is reported five to eight inches tall in the south. Pastures now afford ample grazing. Flowering and tilling for corn and soy beans progressed in the south. Not much corn has been planted yet. The planting of gardens, potatoes and early peas has been largely completed in southern counties. Many early peas are up to good stands; some are four to six inches tall. Some late peas remain to be planted. Tobacco in beds made good progress. Early potatoes are coming up. Fruit trees, including apple, are in bloom in the south and central sections; some spraying was done. Strawberries are coming into bloom.

MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - MAY 8TH.

Feed prices have shown very little change during the last few days. Wheat mill feed prices have steadied around the probable ceiling levels which will be in effect after May 11. These ceiling levels are the highest prices received by the individual sellers during March, 1942. All of May shipment is fairly held at around ceiling levels but June shipment bran is discounted about $4.00 per ton and June shipment middlings about $3.00 per ton under the prompt and May quotations. The oil seed meals have firmed with a good volume of new business recently booked. Crushers report a rather good call for both soybean meal and linseed meal for prompt and deferred deliveries. Tankage and meat scraps quotations remain unchanged at ceiling levels established sometime ago, tankage being quoted at $74.00 and meat scraps at $75.00 per ton, fob packing plants. Malt sprouts have turned slightly firmer following the sharp decline of recent weeks but brewers dried grains continue easy with offerings liberal and production heavy. Malt sprouts are quotable at $20.50 to $21.00 and brewers dried grains at $24.50 to $25.00 per ton at Milwaukee or Chicago.

HAY MARKET - KANSAS CITY. The alfalfa market at Kansas City was again quiet during the week as team track offerings consisted of but one car. A fair to good demand prevailed for the better types of alfalfa and quotations for this grade of hay were strong and would bring top to slightly higher prices if available. Rains were general during the week throughout the principal producing areas and both old fields and newly seeded acreages of alfalfa were making rapid growth. Sales for the week included one car at $20.00 and one car at $8.50 per ton. Nominal quotations basis of the U.S. Grades:- Alfalfa: No. 1 Extra Leafy $21.50-up; No. 2 Extra Leafy $19.50-21.00; No. 1, $17.50-19.00; No. 2 Leafy $16.00-17.00; No. 2, $14.00-16.00; No. 3 Leafy $13.00-14.00; No. 3, $12.00-13.00; Sample Grade $9.00 to $11.50 per ton. The prairie hay market at Kansas City was a little more active during the week. Team track arrivals amounted to 8 cars and in addition, a rather liberal volume arrived direct from the account of dealers and local feeding interests. Several cars of prairie hay being tendered on Army contracts were stopped at Kansas City for Federal inspection during the week. Sales for the week included 1 car at $12.50 and 1 car at $10.50 per ton. Nominal quotations basis of the U.S. Grades:- Prairie: No. 1, $12.00-13.00; No. 2, $10.50-11.50; No. 3, $9.00-10.50; Sample Grade $7.50-8.50 per ton.

LIVESTOCK MARKET - CHICAGO... This morning.

HOGS - Strictly a nominal market on good and choice hogs because of meager fresh arrivals; undertone steady on all classes; quotable top $14.10. Shippers took none. Estimated holdover, 1000. Compared week ago: good and choice barrows and gilts 280 pounds down mostly steady, heavier weights steady to 10¢ lower, sows around 10¢ off.

CATTLE - Compared Friday last week: after fluctuating sharply, fed steers and yearlings finished 25¢ higher, but closing undertone very weak with medium to good grades well under week's high time; sharp supply abridgement, approximately 30 percent at all large markets, main stimulating factor after Monday; proportion weighty fed steers very small locally; buyers bid sharply lower early to conform with their conception of March ceiling prices in dressed beef but had to compete actively later on starvation runs; choice to prime 1428 pound steers topped at $16.50, next highest price $15.75, long yearlings $15.50; relatively little above $14.50, bulk $11.50 to $14.25; most other killing classes advanced, hence, general undertone bearish at close in anticipation of increased receipts; regaining early decline, heifers steady; choice heifers topped at $14.65, bulk $12.00 to $14.00; cows regained early downturns, finishing steady, with cutters at $2.75 down and most beef cows $9.00 to $10.25, strictly good kinds reaching $10.75 during week; bulls weak but active, late top on heavy sausage offerings $10.60; vealers steady at $14.00 to $15.50; limited supply stock cattle mainly steady at $11.75 to $13.50 but bulk went to only a big operator.

SHEEP - Compared Friday last week: all slaughter classes gained price ground, fed lambs 75¢ to $1.00, fat sheep around 25¢, fed wool skins lost 10 to 25¢ on the close with clippers gaining about the same amount; the week's top on choice wool skins $15.20 with strictly choice clippers with full number one skins going late at $13.65; bulk of the wool skins late $14.50 to $14.75, a few under, with most clippers $13.25 to $13.35; fat ewes in the wool sold sparingly at $8.00 to $8.50 with the bulk being shorn at $6.75 down.

MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - MAY 12TH.

With ceiling provisions now in effect, wheat mill feed prices are quoted within a rather wide range and the general market situation for the most part has become a nominal affair until the situation becomes more clarified. Fresh demand at ceiling levels is not active but offerings, on the other hand, are also small. A further unsettling feature is the fact that bran was in best demand during March and the price of the lighter offal rose above that for middlings. Now the best call is for middlings but ceiling prices on this item average lower than for bran.
Just as soon as bran offerings catch up with demand and general price level slides below the ceiling levels, bran will likely trade at a discount under middlings.
Bran for June shipment is now discounted about $3.00 under the May price while June shipment middlings are discounted $2.00 under May. The oil seed meal markets have held steady with demand sufficiently active to hold asking prices firm. Tankage is still quoted at $74.00 per ton and meat scraps at $75.00 per ton, fob packing plants.

WISCONSIN WEATHER AND CROP SUMMARY FOR THE WEEK ENDING TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1942.

Temperatures were variable during the week, and averaged somewhat below the seasonal normal. Maximum temperatures reached 70 degrees on one or two days. Lowest temperatures were above freezing at most stations but dropped to freezing or slightly below at some central and interior southern points on one night. The lowest reported was 23 degrees in the extreme north. Frost occurred on one morning southward into the southern division, but only slight damage resulted. Rainfall was ample and occurred on two to four days. The amounts were greatest in the central section and least in the extreme north. The soil is now well supplied with moisture. Farm work was retarded somewhat by rains and wet soils. Winter grains, meadows and pastures made rapid growth during the week, and all are in excellent condition. Hay is reported in boot. Alfalfa is rank and from six to twelve inches tall in the south. Pastures are reported the best for the season for many years.
Spring seedings are doing well. Some seeding remains to be done in northern sections. The growth of early truck crops, gardens and tobacco was retarded by the cool weather, but their condition is generally good. Some tomatoes and beans on low ground were nipped by the recent frosts, but no general damage occurred. Early peas have grown rapidly, some southern stands are reported eight inches tall. The planting of sugar beets is in progress in the central section. Preparation of fields for corn and soy beans was retarded by rains and wet soil. However, some days were favorable and progress was made. Only a small percentage of the corn crop has been planted. Warmer weather is needed. The blooming of fruit trees has passed its peak in the south. Apparently the bulk of the fruit was not damaged by the recent cold and frosts.
